Narrator

Setting: Daytime in a watermelon patch.

Narrator: When Celina walked into the watermelon patch to pick watermelons she found a HUGE sleeping pig.

Celina: GO HOME Mrs. Pig! I wish you would go! You can't rest here in the watermelon patch. I can't pick my watermelons!

Chorus: But HUGE Mrs. Pig didn't wake up.

Narrator: Then a coyote came by.

Coyote: Hooowl! Hooowl! Hoowl!

Chorus: But HUGE Mrs. Pig didn't wake up!

Narrator: The coyote left and a mule came by.

Mule: I can make Mrs. Pig climb out of the patch.
(Push, push, push)

Chorus: But HUGE Mrs. Pig kept on sleeping.

Narrator: The mule went away and along came a rabbit.

Rabbit: I will get Mrs. Pig out of the patch for you. (Hop, hop, hop)

Chorus: But HUGE Mrs. Pig kept on sleeping.

Narrator: The rabbit hopped away and a snake came by.

Snake: I will use my tail to lift Mrs. Pig out of the patch.
(Pull, pull, pull)

Chorus: But Huge Mrs. Pig wouldn't wake up.

Narrator: The snake left and a little cricket came by.

Cricket: I know I am small and Mrs. Pig is huge. But look at what I can do!

Narrator: The cricket began to sing a tune.

Cricket: Chirrr-chirrr-chirrr! Di-di-di-di!

Chorus: Mrs. Pig woke up fast.

Mrs. Pig: Yes it's time to go home. A watermelon patch does not make a good bed.

Narrator: And she left, sulking.

Celina: Thank you small cricket.

Narrator: Then they ate a whole watermelon to celebrate!
